

Kirsty Davies-Chinnock named as Executive Ambassador for TAG Network Midlands

TAG Network Midlands a networking community within the Midlands that celebrates and supports Trainees, Apprentices, Interns and Graduate level professionals across all industry sectors.

It's philosophy is to provide an opportunity for like-minded Trainees, Apprentices, Interns and Graduate professionals to meet, enhance their personal development, build their confidence and understand the importance of cultivating strong reciprocal business relationships which will enrich commercial partnerships for the future within their peer group.

Founded by Denise Morris who is an entrepreneur, business development professional and an award-winning networker. She has a strong presence within the Midlands. This had led to her being recognised as a highly accomplished networker as Denise was presented with the title of NatWest Venus Awards 'Networker of the Year' 2014. Denise has a mission to use her many years of business and personal development knowledge and experience to help TAG Network Midlands members grow and develop themselves personally to reach their full vocational potential.

Kirsty is delighted to be associated with TAG and looks forward to working with the members of the group as an advisor and connector.
